MYSTERIES OF HUMAN BEHAVIOR: Why do people behave the way they do? Understanding the Mysteries of Human Behavior, by psychologist and professor Mark Leary, is your guide to the latest theories and research from psychology and other behavioral sciences on this age-old question. Understand the answers will help you better know yourself and the people around you. With the powerful insights you'll find in these Wondrium lectures, and in our class discussions, you'll be looking at your own and other people's behavior with a little more insight, curiosity, and wonderment.
